

Steel balls

Notes on storage

1 Storage

ASK steel balls are provided with a corrosion protection agent and can be stored in the original packaging at temperatures between 10°C and 40°C and a relative humidity of less than 60% for several years. During storage, care must be taken to ensure that the cartons are not exposed to direct sunlight, otherwise the storage temperatures may be exceeded.

For further questions, we recommend our knowledgebase at www.askubal.de